

ROBERT GLUSHKO '79

CogSci Honors Thesis Award 2024

Winners

First Place

Evalie Rehor

"Neurons and Navigation: How Single Cells in the Brain Map Our Environments"

First Place

Cassidy Lu

"Correlating Neural Activity with Natural Environmental Features from Video Footage of Freely Moving Patients"

Second Place

David Wu

The relationship between production and perception in a speaker's second language

Second Place

Brandon Kao

"Exploring the Impact of User-Mirroring Chatbot Personas Driven by Large Language Models on Reducing Loneliness in Speech and Text Interactions"

