Are you passionate about machine learning?
Apply now for a 2022 Co-op in AI at Thermo Fisher Scientific!

Artificial Intelligence Engineer Co-op

- Get hands-on experience working with software developers in a fast-paced environment!
- The position starts in July 2022, paid working 40 hours per week through December 2022.
- Students graduating in 2023 are highly encouraged.

What are the exciting things will you be working on?

- Develop AI solutions to help Thermo Fisher improve business and scientific workflows utilizing computer vision technologies
- Collect and prepare images for object detection and image segmentation tasks
- Train deep learning models to detect objects and segment images
- Learn to deploy deep learning models on mobile and edge devices

Learn more and apply in the Jacobs School Job & Internship Portal!